John B. Hardin of Newark, of the law firm of Pitney & Hardin, and James G. Bergen of Somerville are named as likely candidates for the position.

An Explanation.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE CITIZEN:

SIR: There seems to be "much ado about nothing," and a veritable "tempest in a teapot," not so much as to what the Committee of Fifteen has done, but how they came into existence. Dr. Harrison, in his report, says that "a brief review of how the committee was constituted will not only show a disinterested spirit in dealing with the Council," etc. . . . "What of the constitution of the committee?" . . . "The action then taken (at the first public meeting), evidently prearranged by a few gentlemen, resulted in a resolution being passed creating a Committee of Fifteen, . . . an eight to seven affair, the Council a powerless minority." . . . "The design to relegate the Council to the background and assume its functions in management and legislation is clearly apparent." Now, I wish to say emphatically that there was no collusion; there was no prearranged meeting of any gentlemen whatever upon the subject. I myself, without even consulting my lawful partner (my wife), made a rough draft of a resolution which I thought of presenting at the meeting. Unexpectedly I was elected Secretary. Mr. Ward, the Chairman, was, if anything, adverse to the resolution, and when I rather insisted upon making the motion, he suggested it would not look well coming from an officer of the meeting. So as Prof. Chancellor was sitting close by the platform, I handed him my memorandum, which he read, a very hasty conversation was had, and the result was that he offered a resolution which practically embraced the same ideas that I had. There was no dissenting voice, and the resolution passed unanimously. There was no intention of discourtesy towards the Councilmen, nor was there any desire to relegate any one to the rear. It would have been a six to seven affair only for the mythical number thirteen, with doubts whether the people would serve.

Furthermore, I am sure there was not any one who knew even who was to be chairman, as there had been declarations before Mr. Ward agreed to accept the nomination. This I also know, that some members were appointed without being consulted, and had to be urged to serve upon the Committee of Fifteen. This is a true statement, and I trust will put at rest the many idle rumors in regard to the matter.

Respectfully yours,
SAM'L G. HATTE.

Bloomfield's Ignorance.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE CITIZEN:
SIR: There is a rumor abroad that some of the leading interests of the town are about to make application to the proper authorities for the purpose of having a certain corporation of the town enjoined from the further use of its name. The contention is that the name is serving to corrupt the minds of the young, and to greatly enlarge the corruption of the minds of the old. It is claimed that the name cannot be spoken unless accompanied by outrageous profanity, and it is further asserted that the company is getting money from citizens of the town under false pretences. From reliable sources "Public Service" is mentioned as the name of the company.

In defense of its position the company contends that its daily reports show that nine times out of ten no other word is used in connection with its name than "damn"; that hence there can be no corruption, as claimed, because there is no profanity. Decisions of the Supreme Court are quoted to show that "damn" is not a swear word. As to money being got under false pretences, it is shown that "Public Service" is not calculated to mislead even the most ignorant. It is shown conclusively that immemorial custom has made it more usual than otherwise that a person or thing should be other than he or it really is. It is termed by the company "poetic license," and it is claimed that calling the company what it is not really only serves to emphasize what it is. In other words, it is intimated, if the public has been thinking of "public service" in the accepted sense of the words as understood when not applied to the "Public Service" Company, that it is only a dream. Attention is called to the fact that dreams are made of, and to the fact that they always go by opposites.

It is to be hoped that the Town Council, the Board of Trade, or a committee of representative citizens will take the matter up, and if necessary arbitrate it. It would be a matter of regret to have any one from our town go on record as being so ignorant of the English language. The Public Service Company should receive a public expression of regret from our citizens in proper form for the inconvenience it has suffered by reason of this controversy. In the meantime, and until the dispute is settled, it is stated on good authority that no advantage will be taken of the situation on the part of "Public Service." It has magnanimously declared that as heretofore cars will be run through Bloomfield Centre on two-hour headway in the morning, and that in the evening the schedule-time of one hour from Newark to Bloomfield will be maintained.

Attacked by Highwaymen.

Frank Lang of Boonton had a lively battle on Sunday morning with two men who tried to rob him in Glen Ridge. Lang was on his way to this town, had wandered to the end of Ridgewood Avenue, where he met two men and asked them the way here. They volunteered to show him, and led him to a more secluded spot, where they commanded him to hand over his money and valuables. Lang was inclined to treat their change of conduct as a joke, but found out his mistake when one of the men seized his arms while the other searched his pockets.

Lang had just sold his horse, and had $150 in bills in a pocket of his trousers. He wrenched his arms loose and struck the man who was fumbling in his pockets a blow in the forehead. At the same time he gave a jump to one side, and thus evaded a blow from the highwayman who had been holding his arms. Lang was then attacked by both men, and although he put up a good fight, he would have been badly hurt and robbed but for the arrival of a party of Halloween merry-makers in a stage. They heard Lang's appeal for help, and the highwaymen fled.

Lang was taken in the stage to Bloomfield Avenue, where he was put on a trolley car.

A NOVEL INTRODUCTION.

Dr. Howard Co. Make a Special Price.

The Dr. Howard Company have entered into an arrangement with W. W. Keyler's drug store, by which a special introductory offer will be made of 25 cents on the 50 cent size of their celebrated specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia.

This medicine is a new discovery for the cure of all diseases of the stomach and bowels. It not only gives quick relief; it makes permanent cures.

So remarkably successful has Dr. Howard's specific been in curing constipation, dyspepsia and all forms of liver trouble, that W. W. Keyler will return the price paid in every case where it does not give relief.

The old-fashioned idea of dosing with mineral waters, cathartic pills or harsh purgatives will soon be a thing of the past. The best physicians are prescribing Dr. Howard's specific, both because it is so remarkable a medicine and on account of the small dose that is needed.

W. W. Keyler has been able to secure only a limited supply, so everyone who wishes to be cured of dyspepsia or constipation should call upon him at once or send him 25 cents by mail, and get 60 doses of the best medicine ever made, on this special half price introductory offer, with his personal guarantee to refund the money if the specific does not cure.—Advt.

Water Ahead of Beer.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE CITIZEN:

SIR: There seems to be to a wide extent a general agreement among the people of this town in favor of the purchase by the town of the Orange Water Company's pipe line system in the town, but there is an abundantly evident and positive disagreement between the citizens and the Town Council as to the price that ought to be paid for the material that it is proposed to purchase. There was no mistaking the sentiment of the public meeting of October 29. It was decidedly against purchase at the price named in the resolution adopted by the Council. The Council, it is understood, has permitted itself to get into a dilemma, in which it is impossible for it to retrace its steps, even at the best of the people. The election must go on and the people are called upon to do with their ballots what they could not effectually do with their voices. The Council's action has brought about a situation that will be the predominating factor in the next local election. Heretofore the political criticism has been: "How does the candidate stand on the beer question?" Next spring it will be: "How does the candidate stand on the water question?"
